WE NOMINATE

James Douglas Brown, one of the truly beloved members of the Princeton Community and a lifelong resident of New Jersey, who this Thursday (October 14) in his native Somerville will be the guest of honor at a gathering sponsored by the New Jersey Public Health Association and attracting representatives from all of the constituent elements of the State's commonality. This special occasion, quietly and enthusiastically organized by a group of the 67-year old Brown's associates and admirers, will recognize his "major, and largely unsung, contributions over the past three decades to the evolution of social legislation starting with the Social Security Act of 1935."

For well over 30 years Brown, a University faculty member since 1921, Dean of the Faculty for some 19 years and an architect of the United Community Fund, has been influencing governmental policy in what has been termed the "broad areas of basic human needs." For instance, there have now been four specially appointed Federal Advisory Councils on social security laws — in 1937-38, 1947-48, 1957-58 and 1963-65. Brown headed the first council and was a driving-force with the other three. He was a member of Hoover's Emergency Committee for Unemployment Relief and during World War II, a top-level manpower consultant.

Brown, the second ranking officer of Princeton University and numbered among higher education's most forceful and persuasive spokesmen, is concerned with the well-being of millions upon millions of Americans but never loses sight of "individual incentive," "mutual responsibility" and the "preservation of the dignity of the individual under our system of democratic capitalism." It is his conviction that "it is not adequate protection under contributory social insurance but the

'Santa Claus state' that we need to fear in terms of incentives and injury to the moral fibre of the American people."

As an educator Brown is opposed to the rigidities of "big systems." While "America for many years has become accustomed to meeting its vastly increasing needs for goods and services by ingenious extensions of mass production and large-scale organizations," he feels such approaches "are not efficient in producing leaders. Rather, they absorb more leaders than they contribute." In Brown's view, "the development of leaders requires methods which emphasize the individual rather than numbers, close relationships rather than size, and human values rather than knowledge alone."

Of the several categories—public service, scholarly activities and educational administration—into which Brown's career can be subdivided possibly the most dramatic were the shaping and direction of the University's Industrial Relations Section. From 1926 until 1955, when the pressures of his duties as Dean of the Faculty forced him to limit his responsibilities, Brown helped define for both management and labor the concept of industrial relations and developed a widely known research agency. A by-product of this period was Brown's "conference technique" which dominated the University's Bicentennial Year in 1946-47 and brought international recognition to Princeton.

For building bridges of understanding and trust between government, industry and higher education; for meriting, but never seeking, the accolades his colleagues are anxious to confer upon him; for his "long view" of the problems confronting education and the nation; he is our nominee as

WHY?
Merger Defeated. Merger of Borough and Township schools was defeated in Thursday's referendum by 158 votes. In order to pass, the measure had to be approved by both municipalities. It was voted down by Borough voters, 1248 to 1,091. In the Township, it was passed by 2,773 to 230. (See box.) Approximately half of the voters turned out in each municipality (slightly more than half in the Borough).

Two questions are now uppermost in the minds of Princeton residents: "What happens now?" and "Why did we vote the way it did?" In countless weekend gatherings, in delighted victory celebrations and doleful wakes, the two questions were discussed and debated and the "Why?" will unquestionably occupy the minds of Princetonians for years to come.

NEXT: A vote for "What now?" The Township Board of Education will meet Monday in a special session to consider alternatives. Because of quorum problems, the next regular public meeting has been rescheduled for Wednesday, October 27. It will be held at 8 p.m. in the Board's new meeting place, the Valley Road School Library.

"The two school boards must sit down together immediately, and we must confront the Borough Board with the realities of life," said Township School Board president George Grace this week. "We expressed our position so firmly and repeatedly in the past that the High school and they still don't seem to understand that we mean what we said, and we simply MUST have a legal voice in the education of our high school youngsters."

Mr. Grace suggested that purchase of property for construction of a Township high school might be one way of convincing the Borough of Township intent, but he emphasized that the executive session Monday was to explore "alternatives."

Mr. Grace's opposite number, Princeton Graduate member of the Borough School Board, Mr. Joseph Bohrer, is the leader in the anti-merger campaign, said:

"This vote doesn't mean the end, or even a great change; it simply means that the Borough voters rejected this particular proposal. The opportunities for co-operation with the Township are just as great as before, or perhaps greater. Personally, I have no inclination to do anything but to work out our problems and their problems together."

Regional High School? The "S.O.S." Committee announced after the merger vote that it would continue in operation as a permanent group to be called the "Borough Citizens Committee to Serve Our Schools." The S.O.S. steering committee said:

"Our initial proposal to the Borough Board is that the subject of regionalization of the high school only, together with any other possible joint cooperative efforts for the high school, be scheduled for a full study with public participation."

Mr. Bohrer said, following Thursday's vote, "regionalization is one of the realistic opportunities open to us, and I have no reason not to make it a reality through exploration of it."

"I hope that the Borough Board of Education will take immediate steps toward finding ways and means for the Township to have a legal voice in the operation of the high school," stated Borough superintendent Chester R. Stroup, who was a strong supporter of merger.

"Obviously, I am disappointed with the results of the referendum," Dr. Stroup added, "however, the large turnout of voters clearly indicated that this was the will of the citizenry and the decision must be accepted in good grace. Princeton Borough has always supported quality education in the past and I am confident it will do so in the future."

"Legal voice" means either a regionalized high school with a third school board to run it, or else a change in state law which would give the Township

some form of representation in the present set-up. A regionalized high school was indeed the subject of talk over the weeks, chiefly on the part of Borough residents with a "no-hard-feelings" point of view, but also from Township residents who saw it as a potential alternative to a separate high school.

Why? But the week-end talk was more "why?" than "what next?" and regrettably, much of the talk was bitter. A campaign which had started out on both sides as good fair fight with the loftiest of goals—the best education for all Princeton's children—degenerated in its last weeks. Hair-trigger tempers on both sides exploded; emotionality instead of reason became the campaign weapon. Individuals were quoted out of context; irrelevant arguments were brought forth and most unfortunate of all, a bitter "They" divided the community, as though the lapsing Princetonian on the other side of the line were some villainous villain from outer space.

In June, the Opinion Research - Gallup & Robinson survey showed 62% of the Borough voters in favor of merger and 17% undecided.

"Frankly, I'm surprised at the result," admitted Thomas W. Benham, ORC vice-president who directed the survey for the Friends of Public Education. "If you're trying to predict, or course, you keep running surveys right up to the last. The purpose of this survey was not prediction, but to find out how people thought."

"The opponents of school merger made good use of the fears and uncertainties of Borough residents about regionalization," Mr. Benham continued. "The survey, the strongest arguments against merger were its possible effect on the state and various other factors—that some children might have to attend too many schools, that the Borough might lose control of its schools and that the Princeton Plan might be upset, etc."

"Merger opponents worked hard to win over many Borough residents who were in favor or leaned that way. It shows once again that voters reserve the right to change their minds."

"I really don't think Princeton would accept these emotional approaches," Mr. Benham added. "Maybe we have to re-evaluate this community."

—Continued from Page 1— of a procedural device used in school elections. Regular election districts are always combined, and so normal district-by-district analysis is out of the question.

For example, Borough districts 4, 5 and 8 were lumped together. District 9 (Pete Moran, Chestnut, Maple) is traditionally Democratic. District Five (Vanderwerf, Wiggins, Jefferson, Moore) is traditionally Republican. Both, however, are districts of moderate-income families. District Eight is the so-called "Gold Coast" in the western section, heavily Republican.

Together, these three districts voted merger down, 443 to 318. Following the overall pattern, each seat about half its voters to the polls, although only 41% voted in the Eighth.

Districts One (the other western section district), Two (between Washington and Harrison with the largest concentration of University families); Three and Nine (both in the easternmost part of the Borough) formed the only district cluster that voted "yes". 636 to 589.

Incidentally, figures from the consolidation referendum of 1953 gave considerable interest. In that vote, the Township outdid the Borough in saying "no." There were 1,498 "No" votes in the Township to 863 "yes." In the Borough, the vote was 1,966 "no," 1,451 "yes."

Concern for Taxes. The pocketbook, as the survey showed us invidious a factor in the 1965 vote, particularly for Borough residents of modest income who have no children in the schools and who had a honest fear that their taxes would shoot up.

Although he certainly did not intend it that way, Mayor Patterson's endorsement in which he said that merger would bring an increase in taxes but was still the best thing for Princeton's children, brought out many a "no" vote: in fact, merger opponents took Mayor Patterson's comment about taxes out of its "Vote yes" context and used it in a coterminous as a "Vote no" weapon, apparently with success.

"I admit to being disappointed," Mayor Patterson said Tuesday night at Borough Council, "but my disappointment is unimportant at this time. Harsh words were said, but the important thing to remember is that a decision had been made and we must move ahead from that decision."

"Both sides were interested in better education for children," the mayor continued. "The only difference was in judgment of the best method I know we all forget what and proceed forward to provide the best public education possible for school children, in the present and the future."

Princeton Plan. Taxes aside, unquestionably important, in the defeat of merger, Districts 6 and 7 which include the Joins-Quarry-Wiggins area, the key vote—70% by 209 to 109 together, although it is impossible to say whether the reply represented Negro feeling because in the two districts combined, only 37% of the voters went to the polls.

Mr. Rohrer leaned heavily on the Princeton Plan in his anti-merger remarks. Most of the people who supported merger, in both Borough and Township, believe that. Mr. Rohrer was the key vote and that if he had supported merger, as his signature on the Blue Book report seemed to indicate that he would the measure would have passed.

What about the Dilley report? Those who favored merger believe that the timing of the Dilley report release, only one month before the referendum, was most unfortunate, that its conclusions only confused many voters and that this confusion was used to and exploited by anti-merger groups.

The Dilley report said that municipal "consolidation" was out of the question because it would mean an unequal tax burden for the Borough, via a via the Township. The report recommended school merger, of course, but "consolidation means higher taxes" is the phrase that voters took to the polls.

One Borough voter said wryly that too many "big wigs" were saying "Vote yes: the mayor and the two school superintendents and the chamber of commerce and all the ministers and the state board of education. Maybe the Borough voter, in error, American fashion, was darned well going to vote as he pleased. An interesting observation, but one that does not account for 2,700 Township "yes" votes.

Two other factors, difficult to measure, but palpably there, undoubtedly entered into the vote. One was quite frankly "anti-newcomer, anti-egghead" and in the minds of many anti-merger voters, "newcomer" and "egghead" are the same.

The second was an attitude referred to by one observer as "an inescapable conservatism."

But Hope Remains. A newcomer to Princeton (i.e., eight years), a University faculty wife who favored merger, expressed it this way: "They voted against me—symbolically—and against everything I represent: the pressure for excellence in the schools, the carpet-bagger who moves into town and tries to take over in fact. Does indeed take over in many cases: just look at the composition of local governing bodies, school boards and even pulpits."

As for conservatism, one life-long resident of the Borough said, "We have a good school and it won't be any better if we join the Township," and his comment could be echoed 1,349 times.

But the Princeton community as a whole—and that concept is still alive and growing, even though the school got knocked out of it temporarily—the community as a whole did cast almost 4,000 votes (2,869) that said "yes" to the future, and in that thought, there is hope.

HEALTH BOARD BACKED
By Council, Borough Council unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday night expressing its "approval of and confidence in" the Borough Board of Health for urging the Princeton Water Company to fluoridate.

As he has done in the past, Mayor Henry S. Patterson left the Council chamber during discussion and vote to avoid conflict-of-interest charges. Mayor Patterson is executive vice-president of The Elizabethtown Water Company, parent of the Princeton company.

The resolution followed a petition by the Citizens' Water Committee, read by Karl D. Pettit Jr., 104 Bayard Lane, asserting that the Board of Health had "no legal or moral justification" for ordering the company to fluoridate, and urging Council to instruct the Board of Health to withdraw its "illegal order."

The total campaign in Princeton has reached 26%, or $127,246 of the $423,420 goal. Contributors are being asked to consider giving an extra 10 percent this year.

Council in the future, to appoint citizens to the Board of Health "who recognize the legal limitations of the powers of the Board and support the fundamental rights and personal freedom of all citizens."

Water Company's Move. Asked by Council to comment on the statement, Borough attorney Gordon Griffin said that under present laws, the Board of Health could not force fluoridation; however, he said that the Board acted within its rights in making its fluoridation request to the company in the strongest possible terms. "The matter resides now in the hands of the Princeton Water Company," Mr. Griffin said. "It's up to their Board of Directors."

Councilman Elwood W. Godfrey defended Board of Health members and said he saw no reason to investigate prospective appointees in the manner suggested by the Citizens' Committee.

Count Us In. Council gave its legal nod of agreement to the joint swimming pool project about to be undertaken by both Township and Borough at a cost of $370,000.

A new building code, corresponding to the Township's, was unanimously passed. John P. Moran, for Princeton University, objected to the $4-per-$1,000 building permit fee as a stiff levy against big builders like the University. He suggested a sliding scale like the Township's.

Mayor Patterson shrugged, observed that this was a separate problem quite apart from the intent of the ordinance, and said he was willing to confer with the University on the matter.

After some tongue-twisting moments in which Councilmen almost forced themselves voting to destroy Miss Fine's School, they passed an ordinance appropriating $15,000 to be used for raising the old building that once belonged to Miss Fine's School and now belongs to the Borough. Public hearing on November 9.

Charles Agle was named to the Shade Tree Commission replacing Robert van de Velde who resigned this summer because of the press of other duties.

And Police Commissioner William H. Walker reported that since Howard Stepp departed as juvenile referee, five juveniles have been waiting three and four months for a hearing before Judge J. Wilson Naden.

Dedication Postponed. President Johnson has declined the University's invitation to be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies for the new Woodrow Wilson School building and the dedication has been postponed from October 22 to sometime "during the spring term."

Mr. Coyle, did not say whether the President would be invited again for a spring ceremony. The White House decision to decline the Princeton invitation was announced shortly after President Johnson informed the nation that he was having his gall bladder removed.

DIG THEY MUST
But Why So Long? Some seven or eight months ago the Public Service Company began Operation Trench on Nassau Street.

It involved opening a trench between Witherspoon Street and Hayward Lane for the placement of much-needed electrical-wiring ducts to handle the electrical needs of a growing Princeton.

As the months passed and protesters and motorists became annoyingly accustomed to the noise of air drills and the seemingly endless filling and reopening of the trench, the question arose: "Why has it taken so long?" The answer, as supplied by Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley, is a case of the Borough not being able to have its construction cake and eat it too.

Mr. Cawley pointed out that had the firm doing the work been able to dig a trench the entire distance — some 600 feet — and attack the operation in one fell swoop, the job could have been done in one-half the time. But, in order to maintain the flow of traffic on such streets as Palmer Square and Chambers, the digging had to be piecemeal, 20 to 30 feet at a time.

Mr. Cawley went on to say that after a section had been

Shine On, Harvest Moon

Warm days, cool nights, lighted by a big, yellow moon. That's the October weather and hopes are it will last a while.

Temperatures will continue to run a bit below normal, the Man says, but there should be a good deal of sunshine to take off the real chill. Only scattered showers are possible — maybe over the weekend.

The ditches installed more was involved than just filling it up and forgetting about it. First, the ditch had to be filled with dirt and allowed to settle which took between four or five weeks "the cars and the rain would force the [ditch] down," said Mr. Cawley, who explained that there was no way to hurry this "settling" phase.

Next, the trench had to be re-opened and a nine-inch layer of concrete added. "On a State highway, we have to put back exactly what we've taken out," continued Mr. Cawley. Time required for the concrete to set one week.

Finally, the last three inches are filled in with black top. Each night, in order to permit the flow of traffic, the workmen had to cover any open part of the operation with steel plates. To prevent the plates from cutting lines, the perimeter of each was covered with a small mound of black top all time consuming.

Two Weeks More. Mr. Cawley estimates that the entire operation will be completed in two more weeks. The last section of concrete near Hayward Lane, was poured Tuesday.

A similar set of circumstances surrounded the digging of a trench — now complete — on Chambers Street where the telephone company was installing new lines. Said Mr. Cawley, "If we could have blacked out a section of town continuously for two days, we could have completed that operation in one fourth the time, but to do the work and still maintain service is taken on four or five times as long."

Concerning the tie-up on Witherspoon Street at the new library construction site, Mr. Cawley listed five different utility operations being carried out "in just about the same area." Named were electric gas, water, telephone and sewerage.

SKIDDING TRIGGERED
By Tuesday's Rain. The rain which fell Tuesday morning led to three skidding accidents in the Township, all within 90 minutes of each other.

The most serious occurred at 4:49 when a Mack dump truck, operated by Billy S. Conrad, 23, of Merceyville, skidded on Route 206, going down a grade near Red Hill Road, into the path of Anthony E. Sikorski, 41, of Trenton, who was coming the other way.

Mr. Sikorski was x-rayed at Princeton Hospital and treated for lacerations. Several of his teeth were also loosened by the impact which left his car totally wrecked.

The pile-lined parka jacket
that's machine washable
Sale $10

What boy's mother wouldn't love this jacket? It's a good-looking, sturdy cotton with Orlon® acrylic pile and quilted lining. The wrists are tightly knit and the smart bulky knit collar fastens down with leather loops. There are even corduroy welts on the pockets to make them wear better. To make this parka really warm, the detachable hood is quilted, too. Can you still believe it's washable? Sizes 6 to 14 in. blue or olive.

The new longer length, zip-out pile-lined varsity Benchwarmer
Sale $16

The coat that makes him one of the boys—all-wool lined with chevron striped Orlon® acrylic pile. Here's a coat that's made for wear, stitched with extra-heavy duty thread, no raw seams to fray. The wrists have strong gripper snaps to keep the wind from whipping up and the hood drawing ties through grommets. Ten-to-one, this coat will outwear the boy: Sizes 8 to 20. Also in young men's sizes S. M. L at $18. Navy or burgundy.

Tanics Of The Town

Carl J. Klein, 62 of Robbinsville, lost control of his 1963 sedan on the Great Road near Tenacre, veered into a skid and struck a telephone pole. He was not injured.

Also escaping injury was Kenneth H. Shaboy whose milk truck skidded off Rosedale Road near Gaberath at 6:30 in the morning.

On Thursday, Agnes Hoke, 82, of Puerto Rico went into a "Tuball" skid on Route 206 near the Star Mart at 4 p.m. and slammed into two parked cars. Slightly injured, she was taken to the Princeton Medical Arts Building.

Sliding sideways, Mrs. Hoke's car hit the right side of a car parked in front of Duden, Inc., owned by Daniel Domanski of Blairstown, pushing it into another parked car owned by Barbara A. Conk of Trenton. The entire left and right sides of the Domanski car were damaged, as was the entire left side of the Czech car. Police made no charges.

Two slightly hurt. In the Borough last Tuesday afternoon, two children of Mrs. Betty A. Messick, 19 Pin Oak Drive, Pine Knolls, Lawrence Township were taken to Princeton Hospital for treatment of minor injuries received when their mother's car was rammed from behind. Marjorie, 6, received an acute strain and Johnathan, 4 a concussion of the back.

According to police, the Messick car was stopped on Bayard Lane, waiting to turn left onto Avalon Place. It was pushed forward some 18 feet when it was struck from behind by a car driven by David T. Blake, 44 Meadowdale, Lawrenceville. There were no charges.

MOTORATORIUM ENDED

On Unlimited Parking. Since the beginning of construction of the public library on Witherspoon Street, Borough Police have eliminated for the loss of parking spaces, has allowed drivers unlimited parking during business hours in all the Borough's two-hour parking zones.

With the opening of the new 70-space parking lot at the corner of Spring and Tullane Streets, Borough Administrator Robert F. Mooney has announced that the parking motoratorium will end Monday. Two-hour parking is allowed on easterly all the peripheral streets surrounding the business area. All are marked with signs.

OPPENHEIMER TO STAY

Following Retirement. A report that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, director of the Institute for Advanced Study, will leave Princeton following his retirement next June is erroneous, it was said at this Institute this week.

A newspaper story said that Dr. Oppenheimer would go to Miami, Fla. to join the scientific council of the newly-founded Center for Theoretical Studies. The spokesman at the Institute said that while he is associated with the Miami project in an advisory capacity, he has no intention of leaving with architects on plans for the house which the trustees of the Institute have voted to build for him, and will teach physics at the Institute following his retirement as director.

"SNOWDEN" REMODELED?

Developer Has Plans. The "manor house" that used to be known as "Snowden," the big stone-framed dwelling, at the home-end of Snowden Lane, may be changed back from a 12-apartment house to its former majesty as a single-family dwelling.

Developer Benedict Vedlin laid before the Township Planning Board Monday night his informal suggestion that the house, renovated, be incorporated with some other new houses around a cul de sac in the area north of the Franklin-Snowden intersection.

Township planners would offer to see a joining of Mr. Vedlin's proposed site to see with another existing one because such a joining would make things easier for fire police and road maintenance crews. There is also some concern about specimen trees around the big house. Mr. Vedlin will return next month with more formal ideas.

Snowden Lane is so called because it used to lead up to the big house called "Snowden," that belonged to Fisher How. In Mr. How's day, the entire Durann Avenue-Clearview-Ewing-Shopping Center area was a handsome estate and some of the old orchard trees still remain on Durann Avenue properties. Savatara LaPlaca purchased the property a few years ago and blocked out the 12 apartments in the house.

The threat of I-95 has caused Karl Pettit and Balcor to withdraw their plan for Balcor North, on the east side of Cherry Hill and the south side of Cherry Valley. Seller and developer will await a firmer word on the state's plan for the controversial road.

In another part of the forest, the Planning Board approved "Burnwood in Princeton," a ten-home development stretching north from the Lake Carnegie shoreline and extending east from Riverside. Demand Realty is purchasing the land from Thirtieff Realty.

THEFT REPORT

Curtains Taken. Included thefts continue to pepper the pages of the police docket.

John Del Monte, 50, Humbert Street, called police at 1:05 a.m. Sunday to report that five pairs of curtains valued at $25 had been stolen from a dry cleaning machine at the coin laundry located in the rear of the Viking Furniture Store, 239 Nassau Street. He told police he had placed the curtains in the machine about 11:20 Saturday evening and they were gone when he returned an hour and a half later.

Police added that a metal panel had been removed from the dry cleaning machine, damaging it slightly.

Shortly after noon on Sunday, Harold Ostroff, owner of Reawick's Restaurant, 30 Nassau, told police that an 18-by-24-inch "No Loitering" sign screwed to the front door, had been stolen.

Earlier in the week, Mrs. Lottie Sockowitz of Roosevelt, reported the theft of $85 in new clothes she had purchased the same day at Bamberger's Department Store in the Shopping Center.

Mrs. Sockowitz told police she had placed her purchases in the rear seat of her car and then made one more stop at the Shopping Center. Later, she had been parked at the Engineering Quadrangle parking yard on Olden Street from 2:30 to 5. Police said she was unable to say whether the theft occurred at the Shopping Center or in the Quadrangle lot.

Judson Carter, manager of the Key and Seal Club, 82 Prospect Avenue, reported the theft of $2 from his desk last week. Mr. Carter said police that the thief had gained entry to his office by breaking panes of glass in a rear window. Borough police reported finding two expensive-looking, custom-made hubcaps in the Battle Monument parking yard. The hubcaps, chrome-plated red in the center with a black outer rim, are designed to fit any 14-inch wheel, possibly a Chrysler Corporation model, police added.

CARD PARTY SCHEDULED
By Ladies Auxiliary. The annual card party of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Plainsboro Volunteer Fire Company will be held on Saturday, October 23, at 8 at the Plainsboro Fire House on Princeton Road. Tickets for the event will be $1. There will be a drawing for a door prize.

RIPIDING CLINIC PLANNED
At Meadow Mouse Farm. Major Deszo Sillaghy will conduct a Dressage Clinic this Saturday and Sunday at Meadow Mouse Farm on Cherry Hill Road for both riding and aerobically participating. Saturday morning, Meadow Mouse Farm riders will demonstrate the techniques and problems of flexing.

Saturday afternoon and Sunday will be devoted to individual instruction, and at the end of the Sunday morning session there will be a discussion and question period.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK
At Non - Partisan Meeting. Borough and Township candidates for public office will speak next Tuesday at Community Park School. The speeches will come at a non-partisan meeting known as the Princeton League of Voters Candidates Night, scheduled to begin at 8:15.

Each candidate will have equal opportunity to answer the question, "What are your views on the recommendations of the Dilley Report?" A question and answer period with audience participation will follow the speeches.

Mrs. Martin Schwartzchild will moderate the program. The speakers will include Nicholas J. Bartolomeo and Henry B. Patterson II, candidates for Mayor; Joseph L. Bannion, H. Philip Winsa, Alfred J. Sorenson and William Walker II, candidates for Borough Council; and Melvin B. Gottlieb, Carl C. Schaefer and Burton Fink, candidates for Township Committee.

FORUM SCHEDULED

At University Green. This Sunday from 2 to 4, four Princeton University organizations will jointly sponsor an open-air forum on Canton Green, between the Hall, many subject of interest. The forum, first of its kind in Princeton, will offer speakers with a public address system and a platform, and who wishes to comment on the main topic, "Academic Freedom: United speakers, professors and non-University people, as well as students and community residents for anyone to speak on ideas. Seats will be provided, but the discussion will be on an informal basis.

Joining together for the program are the Princeton University Undergraduate Council, the Daily Princetonian, WPBR and the Whig-Citizen Political Society. Those wishing to speak should contact the Princeton University Undergraduate Council, 300 University Avenue, Princeton, N.J. 08540. —Continued on Page 4

LICENSE LOST 10 YEARS
For Drunken Driving. Lucius Owens, 57, 372 Alexander Street, was fined $300 and $25 costs and has had his license revoked for 10 years Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for drunken driving. It was Owens' second such offense.

In addition, the defendant received a 90-day suspended sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse.
In a second drunk driving case, Kenneth S. Fees, 22, Blue Ridge Road, Titusville, received the mandatory sentence: $200 and $25 costs and two years' revocation of his license. Both men pleaded guilty.

ZUBER FOUND GUILTY
In Student Assault. Donald R. Zuber, 21, 79 William Street, charged with assaulting a University student, Michael Tutley, two weeks ago on Nassau Street, was found guilty Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. Zuber had entered a plea of not guilty.

Before passing sentence, however, Magistrate Tams announced he first wanted to review the defendant's past record with the Mercer County Probation Department. Zuber was represented by attorney Gerald R. Stockman.

In Township court, Harold Graves, 81 Leigh Avenue, was found guilty last week of assaulting a woman at the Leigh Avenue address.
Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr. fined Graves $100 and issued a three-months' suspended sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse, pending good behavior for one year. He pleaded guilty.

SPEEDING BRINGS FINE
To Three In Borough Court. Napoleon R. Brooks, 28, 325 Witherspoon Street; Horat E. Winkelmeyer, 25, Graduate School; and John M. Tassie, 48, Carter Road, were fined $35, $25 and $17, respectively for speeding Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Anthony J. Pirone, 17, 16 Hillside Avenue, paid $15 for operating a motorcycle without a license, and Alan S. Manur, Cherry Hill Road, paid $10 for driving an unsafe vehicle.

In Township court last week, Humphrey Omound, 48, Skillman, was fined $3 and $3 costs for failing to keep to the right.

EIGHT LOSE LICENSES
Under Spurd, Point Laws. Eight Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles, half for speeding and half on points.

Those who lost licenses for speeding are William W. Marvel, 45, 141 Dodds Lane; Donald H. Tyler, 71, 2721 Main Street; Lawrenceville; Donald L. Juberger, 18, Montgomery Road, Skillman, all one month; and Catherine F. Hall, 28, 52 Lafayette Street Hopewell, 30 days.

Halled under the point system are Robert F. Allison Jr., 58, Cherry Valley Road, two months; Bruce W. Jefferson, 18, Cherry Valley Road, 45 days; Lawrence Ray 32, Wycoff Mills Road, Cranbury; and Robert J. Sulpician 21, Province Line Road, both one month.

CHARGED WITH CRUELTY
Against Dogs. J. P. O'Neill, caretaker of a kennel on Route One, pleaded guilty Thursday in a Pennsylvania court on a charge of cruelty to animals brought by the field service director for the Humane Society of the United States.
Mr. O'Neill was arrested in Sunbury, Pa. Lycoming County SPCA officers and a Humane Society representative said that Mr. O'Neill had not fed or watered 96 puppies on his truck for a period of 17 hours, and Humane Society officials said that the Society contained no food, water or animal necessities at the time of Mr. O'Neill's arrest. The truck had been under surveillance from 6 p.m. Wednesday until noon Thursday.

When arraigned before the justice of the peace, Mr. O'Neill entered a plea of not guilty, but later changed his plea to guilty and paid a fine of $20, plus court costs.

DIRECTOR IS NAMED

For Junior Museum, Mrs.
Jerome Singer has been appointed director of the Junior Museum, Sheldon Judson Museum President, has announced.
The acting director for the past two years, Mrs. Marvin Goldberger, was elected to the Board of Trustees and named chairman of the program committee.

Mrs. Singer announced that the Museum's first exhibit this year will be "Transportation" and will open in mid-November on the third floor of Buroughs Hall. In connection with the two-month exhibition, she has

SILVER STAR AWARDED

To Henderson in Viet Nam.
Second Lieutenant William
Henderson of the United States
Marines has received a Silver Star for bravery in action in Viet Nam. Specific details of his valor have not been received by his parents, Marine Brig. Gen. Frederick P. Henderson, ret., and Mrs. Henderson of 107 Laurel Circle.
Lieut. Henderson was one of 13 men decorated by the commander of U.S. Marines in the Pacific and one of four who received the Silver Star, the highest award conferred. The 23-year old officer is a patrol leader attached to the Da Nang Air Base, assigned to searching out infiltrating enemy troops.

Lieut. Henderson, a graduate of Duke University in 1964, was commissioned at the time he received his diploma and after a year's training in this country, was assigned to Viet Nam last July. A brother, First Lieutenant Frederick P. Henderson Jr., 26, has been in Viet Nam for the past six months. A younger brother is a freshman at Cornell.

Gen. Henderson retired in 1960 after 24 years of service in the Marine Corps, highlighted by World War II action which saw him awarded a Bronze Star and the Legion of Merit. He is associated with RCA as its David Sarnoff Research Center here.

MUSIC

SEASON OPENS
 With Gassner Quartet. Another concert season has begun and it has begun well. The Gassner String Quartet, with members Arnold Steinhardt and John Bailey, violins; Michael Tree, viola, and David Sawyer, violoncello, performed on Monday night in the first Series II concert of the 1965-66 season to an enthusiastic McCarter Theatre audience. Included on the program was the Quartet in B Flat Major K 589 by Mozart; Quartet, Op. 3 by Berg and the Quartet in A Flat Major, Opus 105 by Dvorak.

Members of the Gassner Quartet are not unknown to Princeton music lovers. David Sawyer's art is not unknown to at least two previous occasions, and with the Alexander Schneider Chamber Orchestra, and again at McCosh Hall with the Princeton Trio. Tree also performed as violinist in the Trio.

If it sometimes amuses to hear a concert and think things about the possibilities the future might bring, it certain elements could fall in place together. The Trio Marlboro Trio performed here in the Trio.

At these McCarter concerts, we expect the intonation to be heard. When have you ever heard Mozart played in this bold, expressive and dramatic manner, where the phrases seem to leap out and the inner voices come to the foreground?

And the Berg Quartet: This is a treasure unearthed from the past for it is seldom performed and available up to now only on a single recording. Composed back in 1910, it recalls the period of Viennese expressionism in music developed by Schoenberg and built on a chromaticism that far surpassed anything Wagner or Strauss ever envisioned.

This was to be Berg's last student work, composed as a pupil of Schoenberg. It is quite a mature composition and very moving. It abounds in contrasting moods, textures and original ideas that anticipate the developments of Bartok's quartet writing. The Gassner Quartet gave it the kind of performance that its composer probably conceived but never heard. What more can one say?

The Dvorak Quartet in A Flat which concluded the program should have been named a Serenade. "Splitting hairs" is not one of this reviewer's trademarks, but how else can one explain the many trivial sections that parade through this light-hearted score? The texture throughout much of the work seemed to be spread apart and did not appear to lend itself gratefully to the style of the Gassner Quartet. The most inspired passages in the first movement were pure gemutlichkeit, Bohemian style, but not the kind of imaginative writing we have come to expect from Dvorak at his best.

three years ago this reviewer praised the beginning as one of the finest in the field of chamber music today. He also had a dream which he thought would probably never come to pass: if only the violinist and cellist of this splendid Trio could form a new string quartet, that would be a fantastic sound it would create.

Well, the dream has come true, though Mr. Tree has since switched to the viola, but no matter. He has no peers as a quartet violist after hearing of this splendid Trio. Mr. Steinhardt's brilliant and sensitive leadership as first violinist of the quartet left nothing to be desired. Sawyer's intense and mature and magnificent as ever and the playing of John Bailey as second violinist presented a perfect complement to the other members. He every bit the polished and refined musician they are.

And so the total ensemble does indeed display a warm, vigorous and dynamic kind of playing seldom heard in this medium. Only the Hungarian Quartet comes close today in producing this type of performance.

I ask the reader who might have attended the program, "When have you ever heard Mozart played in this bold, expressive and dramatic manner, where the phrases seem to leap out and the inner voices come to the foreground?"

SOPRANO TO RETURN
 de los Angeles Here Again. Victoria de los Angeles, the Spanish soprano, will be the first artist to appear in Series I of the Princeton University Concerts. She will sing in McCarter on Monday at 8:30. The only tickets remaining are dining-room-only. They will go on sale at 7:30 p.m. at the box-office at $1.50.

Although Sra. de los Angeles has been widely praised for her operatic roles, she devoted more and more time to the concert stage where she can display her incredibly versatile voice and achieve a closer contact with an audience. An accomplished pianist and singer-actor, Sra. de los Angeles does not use trachea or coaches but prepares herself whatever songs she is going to sing. She protects her

Orchestra, Or. Record

A second recording for Decca by the Princeton Chamber Orchestra will be completed in November. Ezra Morini will perform as soloist with the orchestra in Mr. Morini's D. Still concerto for Violin and Orchestra, K. 218, and the Bath Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in A minor. The Mozart was taped at the end of last season and the Back will be recorded on November 17. Decca expects to release the recording early February.

It was Madame Morini's enthusiasm for the Chamber Orchestra that brought about negotiations with Decca.

voice, and rarely sings more than two engagements a week. For at least four months of each year, she spends her entire time with her family in Spain.

READY, AMATEURS?

Singers Are Welcomed. Princeton's Society of Musical Amateurs, a collection of non-auditioned singers who gather to sing for the pleasure of it, will meet for the first time this season on Sunday at 8 in the Unitarian Church. The evening will be devoted to Haydn's "The Creation," conducted by R. Merrill Knapp, Dean of the College and professor of music at Princeton. Soloists will be Christine Ligo, soprano; Terence Fennor, tenor; and William Tregno and Gordon Pruett, basses. There will be an orchestra.

Other works to be sung during the year are: November 21, Bach, Cantatas No. 165 and 182; December 12, Bach, Christmas Oratorio; January 16, Haydn, "Theresia" Mass; February 20 to be announced; March 13, various motets by Josquin, Palestrina, Victoria.

MOONEY IS CHAIRMAN.
For Red Cross, Robert F. Mooney, Borough Administrator, has been named chairman of the Princeton Red Cross Disaster Committee.

Jerold S. Hanks, chapter chairman who made the announcement, explained that the committee which Mr. Mooney will name will help mitigate the suffering caused by fires, storms, hurricanes and other disasters. The committee will also help disaster victims resume normal family life.

Mr. Mooney, a resident of 46 Cedar Lane, is a life-long resident of the Borough. He has been employed in Borough Hall since 1940, first as Clerk for 17 years and then as Administrator for the past three years. He is a Navy veteran of World War II and a post fire chief of Princeton.

BAKER HOME ENTERED

On Allison Road, The home of Prof Carlos Baker, a member of the University faculty and official biographer of Ernest Hemingway, was ransacked Monday night by persistent thieves who had failed to gain entry the previous night.

Monday afternoon, a milkman called police to say he had found the screen door cut and glass broken in a rear door of the Baker residence at 34 Allison Road. Borough police investigated and said that there were several signs of entry marks, but that apparently no entry had been made. All windows and doors, which had three locks, were secure, they added.

The next night, the home was successfully entered. A daughter of Mr. Baker told Detective Robert McAvoy, the investigating officer, that some silverware, which had been in the family for a long time was missing, together with some towels and pillow cases. Entry room was ransacked and jewelry was scattered all over the place, she said. McAvoy said that it would be impossible to determine a complete list of what was taken until the Bakers, who are away, return.

JAYCEES PLAN PAGEANT

For Junior Misses. Auditions for the 1968 Mercer County Junior Miss Pageant will be held Sunday at 2 at the Grange Hall on North Main Street in Pennington. The pageant, sponsored by the Greater Pennington Jaycees, is open to 12th grade girls who attend any secondary County secondary school.

Richard Pratt, general chairman for this year's event, has announced a $200 scholarship prize to the young lady judged best on the basis of talent, personal appearance and scholastic achievement in the county pageant. The winner of the pageant, to be held on December 3 at the Horwath Miller High School in Pennington, will also be eligible to compete for a $1000 scholarship on the state level.

BUSINESS In Princeton

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED
At Gallup & Robinson. Three area residents are among seven employees promoted by Gallup & Robinson.
Mrs. Louise Stupplebeen of Lawrenceville, former director of personnel and special print studies, has been elected to the first executive position and has been named Vice President of Personnel. She has been with Gallup & Robinson since 1953.

James H. Moore of Hopewell, former research account supervisor, will serve as general service executive and assistant to the president. He will assist E. R. Purvis, president, in the advertising and market research firm, in promotional and public relations activities. E. Paul Hoffman of Pennington, former magazine production manager, will work as director of data retention and distribution, a newly created position. He will handle a cross-index of data resulting from the firm's various research services.

Other employees promoted include Robert V. Appleton, Bordentown, research account executive to director of special print studies; Miss Elizabeth Anderson, Ringoes, assistant field director in the firm's interviewing department; Miss Virginia Krenner, Levittown, Pa., supervisor of typing; and Charles Corallo, Trenton public relations supervisor.

NEED A COMPUTER?
New Center Opens. A telecomputing center where scientists and businessmen can use a large-scale PDP-8 computer will open at One Palmer Square next month.
Applied Logic Corporation will set up a system for scientists and engineers, businessmen and mathematicians, one that they can use the PDP-8 without leaving laboratory or office.
Clients will communicate directly with the computer, through remote-control teletype units and TWX lines. This means that a customer can operate the computer whenever he wants to, with response in a fraction of a second.
In addition, of course, an engineer or business man can come to the center and use the computer through teletype facilities at One Palmer Square. Either way, the customer will be able to enter his program or other information in confidential files within the computer.

The center, designed to accommodate the entire range of data-processing tasks, will have a staff composed of programmers, mathematicians and engineers with a broad range of experience in computers and mathematical research. Consulting services will be available.

Dr. James R. Guard, Dr. William B. Easton and James Bennett will be responsible for operation of the center. William D. Nelson and Dr. Thomas H. Motz Jr. will handle administration and computer sales.

CELEBRATES 37 YEARS
Nevis-Voorhees. Princeton's Nevis-Voorhees store will join its three older brothers in the week in celebrating 37 years of retail merchandising.

Jacob and Austin Nevis founded the store in Flemington in 1878. It is known as "The Nevis Store." A second link in the chain is F. J. Young's in New Brunswick. The largest store in the Nevis-Voorhees in Trenton, the youngest is the one in Princeton.

George R. Nevis is president of the chain. John H. Nevis and a Carr Nevis are vice-presidents and Taylor Fisk is secretary-treasurer.

NIGHTSTOWN MAN NAMED
Project Director. Michael Brown has been appointed project director on the staff of Market Dynamics 145 Witherspoon Street. He will leave his position as project director of Police, Crime and Bedding.

Mr. Brown is a graduate of the City College of New York, where he is currently doing work in the field of market research. He and his wife and their two daughters are now living on Hickory Court Road in Hightstown.

CARNEVALE IS DELEGATE
To Underwriters Convention. Nicholas Carnevale, president of the Delaware Valley Association of Life Underwriters and representative of the Manufacturers Life of Canada Insurance Co. Inc., will be attending the annual convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters in St. Louis.

Mr. Carnevale, who lives on Carter Road in Hopewell, is Underwriters Convention. News Of The CHURCHES

TO HEAR WATTS PASTOR

Discuss Recent Riot. The Rev. Clarence E. Labaree, Bel-Vue Presbyterian Church, located in the Watts area of Los Angeles, will speak at 8 p.m. on Monday in First Presbyterian Church. His visit is sponsored by the New Jersey Presbyterian Commission on Race Relations. The public is invited.

According to John B. Yost, committee chairman, the Rev. Mr. Glenn was one of the few people who had any contact with the residents of the Watts section during the time of the riot. His congregation assigned him to do nothing but listen to residents' comments during the aftermath.

He will generalize on his experience to help us gain a better insight into the shocking lack of communication between the Negro's and the whites, particularly as it applies to our larger cities.

LAYMEN TO SPEAK

At Sunday Services. "Laymen's Sunday" will be observed this week in the various churches.

Hartwell Caldecott will give the sermon. Princeton Methodist Church in 1964 at the 11 a.m. service in the Methodist Church. The anthem, "Once to Every Man and Nation," will be sung by the men's choir.

Elder J. Douglas Brown, dean of the Princeton University faculty, will preach at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services in First Presbyterian Church. His subject is "The Christian, the Community and the State." Assisting him at the early service will be Deacon Bettes B. Gault and Elder Moore Gates; at 11 a.m., Deacon McLaughlin and Elder William J. Speers will assist.

At Calvary Baptist Church in Hopewell, three laymen will speak at the 11 a.m. worship service. Their subjects are: Richard Van Dorco, "Go Insure Concerning the Book of Revelation," What Is the Bible? and Scott Danbury, "What Should We Do?" Hardy Pedersen and Scott Danbury Jr. will sing a hymn, "How Holy" and Harry McCandless will be at the organ.

POVERTY HEAD TO SPEAK

At First Presbyterian Church, St. Paul, Minn., Dr. Fred Stearns, director of the New Jersey Office of Economic Opportunity, will speak this Sunday at the third of the "Religion and Crucial Issues" series sponsored by the Princeton Pastors' Association and Calvary Baptist Church. His talk, "The Problem of Poverty in the United States," will be at 10:30 a.m. in the A.M.E. Church, Witherspoon and Mulcahy Streets.

The Rev. Dr. Kenneth L. Maxwell, 208 Laurel Circle, will deliver the final address on Sunday, October 25, at the Princeton Jewish Center. Dr. Maxwell will speak on the international affairs commission of the National Council of Churches. He recently served as the Protestant representative in the Roman Catholic peace sessions for the visit of Pope Paul VI.

TO HEAR BRAZILIAN

At Leavenworth Church. The Rev. Clarence E. Labaree, dean of the Centennial Presbyterian Seminary, Victoria, British Columbia, will speak on Tuesday at a luncheon at the University Presbyterian Church. All interested women are invited.

He will discuss the challenge of the Church in the revolutionary situation of the world. Luncheon is scheduled from 11:30 to 2 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Labaree, of French Huguenot descent, is a graduate of the University of Brazil and Campinas Seminary. He did graduate work in 1956-57 at the University of Strasbourg and was a fraternal worker in Portugal for the Presbyterian Church the following year.

SIMPLE — SUPREME — BEAUTIFUL

TRINITY — ALL SAINTS' CEMETERY Princeton, New Jersey

A cemetery is the final resting place of those whom we have known and loved. It should be simple, serene and beautiful so that we can remember in peace and with gratitude the lives of those who have been close to us and who still remain so. This is the concept of Trinity-All Saints' Cemetery.

Situated on land adjoining All Saints' Chapel of Trinity Parish, this cemetery fills a need in our rapidly growing community. Consecrated for its special use on November 5, 1961, it is new in point of age. It is new in its return to the tradition of having a cemetery beside a church. It also follows the modern practice of treating the grounds as a memorial park without an array of somber headstones.

Although the cemetery has been created by Trinity Parish it exists to serve the entire community. The Christian faith of its founders is proclaimed by the central cross which dominates the ground, but those who lie beneath that cross will come from many faiths.

The simplicity of the setting is marked by the quiet dignity of the central monument and the flat bronze plaques which alone mark each grave and site. This is greeted without ostentation as the natural end of life on earth. This simplicity contributes to a feeling of serenity. A visit to Trinity-All Saints' Cemetery provides an opportunity to spend a quiet time in surroundings which remind one of the essential beauty of all life.

All the natural advantages of this lovely setting are complemented by the thoughtfulness and care with which the cemetery is operated and maintained. Continual and careful attention to the cemetery grounds is ensured in perpetuity by Trinity Parish.

Beauty ON OF THE SQUARE

By Archibedes (Bernard)

It's important for all of us to understand the need of protein for the hair. Note your own reactions to the lack of food and you will observe the same conditions present in the hair when it needs conditioning.

When you work all day you use up the energy you had at the beginning of the day, and you become tired. Then, in order to replenish your energy, you eat. This furnishes your body with the ingredients it needs to dispose of the fatigue.

The hair, when it loses much of its protein parts, also becomes "tired," and must be "fed" the protein it has lost through improper care. If this "food" (protein) is not furnished, the hair becomes "sick" (very badly damaged - breaks excessively - loses its shine and lustre).

If you are tired, you cannot drink water instead of eating food and hope to replenish the energy you need; because water is not made of the elements the body needs to recuperate its energy. Consequently, when the hair loses proteins and becomes "tired" or "sick" it must have these proteins replaced in the hair structure - and oils, lanolins, cholesterol and promades are not made of proteins. Therefore, they, like water in relation to the human body, can not replace the lost hair proteins and restore the hair to a healthy condition.

For custom Protein Hair Treatments come to TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 60 Palmer Square West, 2nd-3rd fl.

MOTHER COURAGE AND HER CHILDREN: Judy London as Mother Courage, tells her son Swiss Cheese (Gregory Abeti) what is likely to happen to him if he joins the army. Mother Courage's mute daughter Katrin (Charlotte Glenn) sits beside her on the canteen wagon. The Bertolt Brecht drama will play McCarter this Thursday with a 7:30 p.m. curtain, reappearing in repertory next Friday, October 22 at 8:30.

strong features speak for the role. Miss London is a thoroughly believable and commendable "Courage." One cannot fault her on youth.

A Lean Production, Morton Siegel, the director, has stripped the play to its music and given us a lean production, without gimmicks or strained effects. The social message comes across in the lines and the songs but it is not a hard-sell approach.

Mr. Siegel's stage is bare except for the canteen wagon pulled by Mother Courage and whichever of her three children has survived the Thirty Years War up to that point.

The top corner is a map of Central Europe overprinted with Brecht's scene introduction which are also read off, in a straightforward narrative manner, by the Recruiting Sergeant.

The scenes follow inexorably with only one interruption. The pace is measured, stolid, bleak, broken only by ironic comedy and the percussive songs written by John Duffy.

In fact, Miss London's singing delivers: its natural rasp carried more conviction than Miss Newby's professional singer's voice would probably have done.

Visually, the production is equally successful. Mr. Siegel and his lighting associates, Clyde W. Bakely and Jeanne Bakely, have used a diffused blue light to silhouette

"COURAGE" OPENS
"First in Series, 'Hey! Wait for me!' shouts Mother Courage at the end of Brecht's play. She must now pull her canteen wagon alone because all three of her children have been killed in the war but she says, 'I'll manage; there's not much in the wagon now: I must get back into business . . . wait for me!'"

The shrewd strategy of Mother Courage comes across remarkably well in the McCarter Theatre repertory production that opened the Fall Drama Series Friday night; if the paradoxes in this contradictory character do not emerge quite so clearly — her sacrifice of a snug berth as landlady of an inn so that she can care for her mute daughter lined against the haggling order of a bribe that costs her the life of a son — it is due perhaps to the director's philosophy of letting the lines speak for themselves until their emphasis.

"Mother Courage" is Judy London, an actress with considerable stage herself, willing to take on the part although she is only 22 years old with a brief experience as Mother Courage in a small mid-western theatre. She assumed the role with almost no notice when Patricia Newby withdrew from the McCarter cast.

Armed with a big frame, a voice which can be harsh and loud and the wisdom to forget about a white wig and make-up and let her own

WELCOME, BRIDES

Wedding "This Fall" Any bride who walks into Stone's Linen Shop will walk out again with something of everything and dozens of some things. It's an exquisite little boutique of a shop, as you know. And yet the bride who is filling her first linen closet may buy here such sensible things as bed pads and mattress covers (all sizes, of course) the modestly priced Springmaid 180-count percale sheets and Marlex' budget - conscious bath towels for only $2 each.

Well, you can go on up from there, naturally. To Wamutla's 210-count percale sheets, perhaps. (Stoote carries 20 sheets in sheets and two sizes in cases, if you can believe it.) We fingered the deep gold embroidery on Wamutla's "Taisley", a four-inch band of classic embroidery in a single color (green, pink, robin's egg or maize) and the gentle pastel flowers and leaves on Wamutla's "Danae".

Merino wool blankets from England, where you've got to have warmth, start at $22.50 for a single size. The double size is $27.50. You'll find deep or pastel colors, 18 in. all. North Star Blankets, for a dinner party, start at $14.95.

Glass bedpads made of Owens - Corning Fiberglas, are showing themselves off these days at Bamberger's. "Beta" fiber, about one-third the diameter of other glass fibers and only a fraction of the diameter of any natural or synthetic fiber, is so resilient and soft it feels well, as soft and comfortable as you'd want a bedpad to feel.

But durable! Anything that spills on the spread can be wiped off with detergent and water, with no chance of permanent fiber damage. Spreads won't wrinkle, so many how often they are folded, or how many times they are used is at the new task of bed-making.

Fiberglass spreads are immune to mildew and practically immune to fading from sunlight. All have welled seams and coordinated draperies, four styles and innumerable colors and sizes.

Two - pound winter - weight comforts are dacron filled and covered with nylon, cotton or even corduroy. They're $11.85 to $19.95 depending on the covering fabric.

Stone's favorite bridal set sees the white and pale green of lily of the valley, embroidered in fine detail on the border of sheets and cases and used again in matching guest towels. (Larger lily of the valley towels may be had to order.)

Downstairs in the dining-room, we find Irish double damask cloths for your first formal dinner-party. Pearl Madras with the stately monogram? That's here, too.

For a start, you might like the four placemats for $6.95 - they're done in Portugal. A deep natural linen tablecloth has been embroidered by Portuguese needlewomen in the bright red, royal blue and white peasant embroidery of Portugal, making the most cheerful breakfast or luncheon cloth you can imagine. Comes in linen with white too. $28.95 for the cloth and eight napkins.

A contemporary bride will collect laminated plastic mats, starting with blue roosters on red calico or clustered gold carnations and dahlias. (Pink or blue, too). How about the placemat that looks like a cane seat?

Accessories for a bride's new home aboard this shop, crown, will make you see royal wicker wastebaskets, out in the crowd.

ON THE PURSERS LIST: Lee Marvin and Vivien Leigh are among a superb group of players brought together for "Ship of Fools," now at the Playhouse and the Prince Theatres.

News Of The Theatres

BLUEGRASS COMING

Scrags and Flats, Scrags Flats and the Fudge Mountain Boys will be on stage Friday at midnight for the first of McCarter's "Midnight Spectacles."

The second one will be next Friday, October 22, when Judy Collins, the folksinger, brings in McCarter her big guitar and her big old voice.

"Folk music is my contact with other human beings," Miss Collins has said, "a way of saying what I think is happening inside their souls. What's happening in the music now is what's happening in the Germany of Weill and Brecht; this outcry, this fury, this screaming—it's exciting."

ONE-ACT PLAYS PLANNED

By Pennington Players. The Pennington Players will present three one-act plays for their international evenings at the Hopeville Valley Central High School on October 28 and 30 at 8:30 p.m. The plays being presented are "The Oak" by Noel Coward, "Riders to the Sea" by J. M. Synge and "Sunday Come Five Paces" by J. Ngugi.

Handling the production will be Joan Brickman, with the assistance of director Charles Eulichard. Others helping in the presentation are Jack Rose, actor; Diane Monteleone, co-actor; Scottie Michael, properties; June Woodard, programs; Lonella Waeling, make-up; Penny Woodard, publicity and tickets; and Gerard Kursh, lights.

"LA BOHEME" SCHEDULED

At Playhouse. A filmed performance of Puccini's "La Boheme" by the La Scala Opera Company has been booked into the Princeton Playhouse for next Wednesday and Thursday, October 20 and 21.

There will be four showings of the Warner Bros. Technicolor presentation on the two days with matinees at 2 p.m. and evening performances at 8 p.m.

The artistic direction of "La Boheme" is by Herbert von Karajan, the musical director and conductor, and Franco Zeffirelli, stage director and set designer. The cast of singers is headed by Giamma Taimond, Mirella Freni, Adriana Martino and Rolando Panerai.

Utilizing newly developed sound techniques, the complete musical range of the opera has been captured on film for the first time, in an exact photographic reproduction of the La Scala performance. Seals will not be reserved, but the number sold for each performance will not exceed the seating capacity of the Playhouse.

MISTY COMING

Children's Show. Misty of Chichester, the famous and well-loved horse, will appear on the screen this Saturday at 1 in the first of a series of Saturday movies for young people to be shown weekly at The Playhouse.

The story as all kids know, tells about two youngsters who want a horse more than anything in the world. Chichester is an island off the Virginia coast. The Playhouse is on Palmer Square.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE

Ship of Fools (now playing) traces with humor, insight and irony a variety of stations and people aboard a German passenger liner after plunging its way from Mexico to Bremerhaven, in 1933. The screenplay by Abby Mann, award winner for his "Judgment at Nuremberg" script, is based on Katherine Anne Porter's best-selling novel.

Vivian Leigh plays a selfish Virginia divorcee fleeing middle age and dangerously living in the past. Simone Signoret appears as a drug-dependent Spanish nobelwoman on her way to prison. Jose Ferrer plays a loud-mouthed, girl-chasing, pro-Nazi publisher. Lee Marvin is the baseball player who never made it big because he could not hit a curve ball on the outside corner.

Others who figure importantly are Elizabeth Ashley and George Segal as young Americans.

Pool Cover Keeps Water Usable Year After Year

Even a drought, such as the one experienced this year, causes no hardships for the swimming pool owner who has equipped his pool with a cover that keeps his water usable year after year.

In fact, pool owners who have been using a Sylvan pool cover for as many as five years report that they are still using the same water. You can, too, with no danger whatsoever, to health.

You'll save money, too, because filling a pool each spring costs money — money that you could be saving because emptying a swimming pool in the winter is unnecessary with a Sylvan pool cover.

Not to mention the convenience. No more leaves, insects, and dirt falling in to your pool, particularly at this time of year when this problem is most prevalent. No more clogged filters and drains. And you'll save time on maintenance, because a pool that is kept covered in the fall and winter is a snap to start up in the spring.

And don't forget the safety factor. With a covered pool you enjoy absolute peace of mind, even when you are away from home.

Now is the time to buy your Sylvan pool cover, not only because you need it most right now, but also because you save 10% if you buy it from Sylvan Pools before October 21st. A Sylvan pool cover is lightweight for easy handling. You won't need to put chemicals, won't fade, won't rot. It's the nicest, and the safest thing you can put over your pool.

For more information, visit this special sale ends, call Sylvan Pools at 921-6166 or visit our local showroom at the Princeton Shopping Center, Princeton.

 Jan Jowers, Jose Greco as a procurer and dance troupe leader, Oskar Werner, the ship's tormented doctor, and Michael Dunn, a dwarf who is a giant in talent and ability.
 Producer-director Stanley Kramer plays the part of a puppeteer quite successfully as he manipulates these top-notch actors. The result is an interesting film, though a bit overlong.

GARDEN

The Pawnbroker (thru Tues.)
 This is a story of a man mugged by his past who learns that he cannot escape involvement with humanity.

Rod Steiger is a German refugee who operates a pawnshop in Spanish Harlem. A flashback technique evokes his tormented memories in numerous sketches he had watched his children die in a concentration camp; he had been violated by Nazi officers. A social worker in the area played by Geraldine Fitzgerald, tries to get him to open up, but is rebuffed. Only his young Puerto Rican assistant, Jaime Sanchez, senses the man under the unfeeling exterior.

The drama that unfolds is truly adult. It has been granted a Production Code seal despite scenes of nudity. Rod Steiger captures every nuance of an extremely difficult characterization. His control is absolute, and as a result, the dramatic intensity of the film never lets up.

Black fox borders the giant black-white plaid coat and wolf, if you please, struggles against the throat in a white, white hankie-weave with a bell shung low across the back, stop, stop at the hip-bone. That's a wide, wide, wide hankie-weave, by the way. Striking coat. Now, where's me Mod cap?

WE WANT COLOR

Try Nandena. Ambleside, the garden and nursery shop on Route 200 in Belle Mead, suggests planting for autumn color as long as you're doing your autumn planting.
 Nandena's brilliant red, the good clear claret of Erythronium alatus compactus or the interesting red veining of an Eranthis—any of these would add color and interest to your planting scheme.
 Nandena is a four-five foot tall shrub, the Erythronium is a dwarf, you can just about take your pick of size and color at Ambleside.

By the way, if you are indeed planning a planting, Ambleside will visit your house, discuss a plan with you and draw one up during the long winter evenings, so that when spring comes, you'll be ready to go. Ambleside plans this fall-winter planning for spring, to make sure you'll be done in time.
 Charge is $25, refundable if you buy $100 worth of plants.
 Where were we? Ah, yes, in the autumn plan-box. V. burnum is wide variety, a cranberry bush, snowball will do wonders for your autumn woodland. And consider the Oxydendrum (snow wood) with its panicles of flowers in August and its striking autumn red.

We like the Oregon grape, holly, Mahonia, because of its brown and glossy leaves. Maybe you'd prefer the low growing Skimmia with its clusters of little red berries against light green leaves. You need male and female with this one.
 Naturally, Ambleside has the traditional autumn planting, the purple bulbs like the double late tulip "Symphony" or the mixed crocus. Why not pick up a copy of the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Bush Handbook?

Mums are all over the place. Buy a collector will look first at the "Collectors' Items" corner with grafts from $2.75 to $10.00. Like the "Red of Lebanon" and the weeping pine.

Memorandum Eased

For the past three weeks, TOWN TOPICS has been unable to accept for publication letters on subjects other than school merger, inasmuch as the volume of those on merger was so extreme. To these where letters could not be printed, apologies that the editorial space had been taken, although in recent weeks the number of words in these excesses has been included in this week's issue as letters on Integration which could not appear as quickly as they were received. Since the subject remains of unusual interest, a word to correspondents from TOWN TOPICS' copyeditor: the U comes first — if's "Integration," not "Integration."

munally to join together now in a spirit of harmony and co-operation for the common good.

We pledge ourselves to continue to strive for the best possible school system for all the children of Princeton. Specifically, we believe that a way must be found to preserve the educational association of Borough and Township.

Full Integration Lacking.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Now that the emotions surrounding regionalization are cooling, it is time for those on both sides who are sincerely interested in the continued excellence of the Borough school system to remedy some of its defects that were revealed in the heat of battle.

It was estimated that an additional $60,000 to $80,000 per year is needed to pay for the specialized instruction and services that a junior high school program should offer if it is to provide first-quality education by today's standards. Mrs. Bernice Miller said in her letter that "a good part" of this has been built into the new John Witherspoon School budget, and that "the additional expense would certainly be a better investment in good education than the unknown cost of a merger."

I wonder how many Borough citizens realize what the lack of adequate funds at all levels of our school system has done to the Princeton Plan — degrading it to just another version of de facto segregation. Despite the tireless and wholehearted efforts of everyone in the Borough system, they have been unable to provide specialized assistance to all those children who need more than the regular classroom teacher can give them.

Well-to-do parents and those who value education highly have managed to provide extra help if and when it was needed by their children, either at home or outside of the school system. The other have had to do without the help they need in reading, writing, speech, cultural background and other elements that make up education.

The result is seen clearly at the Borough Junior High School where homogeneous grouping by achievement is first introduced into the system. Here there is perfect and natural integration in the halls and in the cafeteria, but the walls of the individual classrooms inexorably divide the achievers from the non-achievers, those with cultural advantages from the culturally deprived, the highly educated family from the poorly educated and the black from the white.

The move to our beautiful new school will not in itself correct the situation. It remains for the Borough schools to be given the additional funds which both sides of the merger controversy agree are necessary to educate every student to his or her full potential. Perhaps then we will have full integration in every classroom rather than just the outward appearance of integration.

What Happened to the Bypass?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It seems that many causes born with purposes and enthusiasm die with time and confusion. Unfortunately this is what is happening to the 206 by-pass project designed to relieve Princeton of the noise, fumes and ugliness of interstate trucking.

After so much effort of so many people to bring the bill this far along, must we stand back and allow all this work go to waste because of people like Senator Ozard and Kingston "Trap Rats"?

I think there are many others who join with me in demanding an answer to where the project now stands and what it may not yet become a reality.

well as those who raise questions as to infringement of personal rights, legal and moral problems, etc., all of which obfuscate the scientific facts in the issue. What we are sure that the Princeton Water Company and the Township and Borough officials all have the supporting data to which I will refer has been secured to show that there are those in the community who would like to review for themselves the excellent compilation of articles reprinted in a single pamphlet entitled "Fluoridation" from the Journal of the American Water Works Association, Volume 65, Number 5, November 1962. Reprints may be had at no charge on request to The Department of Health Education and Welfare, Public Health Service,
Washington, D.C. 20501.

Included among the 23 articles in the above reprint are three which are devoted to comment and appraisal of the standard objections to fluoridation including the possibility of long range deleterious effects, danger of overdose, etc. References are made to 192 scientific articles and reports. It is of interest that studies of populations who for up to 76 years have consumed water naturally containing fluoride, up to four times the concentration which is now employed in artificial fluoridation
of community water supplies (one part per million) have revealed no deleterious effects.

I should like to conclude with the statement made by U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry at a hearing before the New York Board of Estimate on November 1, 1963.
New York City, incidentally, is about to begin fluoridation
of its water.
"The United States Public Health Service endorses the fluoridation of community water supplies without reservation. Fluoridation is the best means available for preventing tooth decay—a painful, costly and distressing disease that attacks 95 percent of the American people.

"The safety and effectiveness of fluoridation are backed by sound scientific evidence. Many years of scientific investigation have established the validity of this procedure. As a result, numerous communities and millions of people have been using fluoridation for decades. The legalization of fluoridation has been established and reconfirmed in the highest courts.

"In short, fluoridation is one of the important public health measures of our time.
The Public Health Services
urges every community to make the benefits of fluoridation available to its citizens as soon as possible."

Questions Involved.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
It seems that the Mar-cou County Medical Society has had a number of phone calls from individuals questioning their endorsement of fluoridation. The reason given for this question is that all the material that these individuals have seen has been anti-fluoridation
and it seems that they are not even aware that studies showing fluoridation to be a safe and effective procedure have been documented.

Enclosed you will find a letter to one such individual.
The offer is made to all individuals desiring to know the truth about fluoridation.

JACK L. ROEMER, D.D.S.
109 Nassau Street

The text of the letter to Mrs. L.B. Webster, 35 Boudinot Street, follows:

The Mercer County Medical Society has contacted me and informed me of your problem, and requested that I contact you. It seems that you have been deluged with anti-fluoridation material and have been favor of fluoridation.

Since I have a wealth of fully documented scientific studies showing that fluoridation is an effective, safe, and costly sound procedure, I would be happy to have you contact me and arrange a meeting so that we could go over your material together. We can then support the fact from the factory and I can provide you with the documented fluoridation information that you obviously desire to help you make up your mind.

Jay Cees Back Fluoridation.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The Princeton Jaycees have voted to favor the fluoridation of Princeton water supply and request its immediate adoption by the Princeton Water Company.

At the September monthly meeting, the group heard presentations by speakers representing pro and con. After a question and answer period,
the Jaycees voted overwhelmingly to support the propositions.

The Jaycees, an organization of young men with predominantly younger children, feel fluoridation of the water supply would benefit the entire community. It would make Princeton a more attractive place in which to live for majority of its residents. Although some of our members do not actually reside in the borough or township, we firmly believe that fluoridation would be an asset for the community.

It is our hope that the Princeton Water Company will renew the public's readiness to resolve this issue without further delay. We encourage other organizations and individuals to make their expressions known to the Water Company, who we feel was correct in its initial decision to fluoridate
the water.

FOR: LEADERSHIP OF EXPERIENCE AND RESPONSIBILITY VOTE FOR THE PATTERSON TEAM

READ the following quotations and decide for yourself which team offers the most qualified and dynamic leaders for Princeton Borough:

"For giving freely of his time, experience and abilities to his fellow Princetonians: FOR STRENGTHENING THE 'VOL-UNTEER TRADITION' THAT IS THE HALLMARK OF THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE; for his accomplishments as a teacher, research engineer and public servant; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for PRINCE-TON'S MAN OF THE WEEK." Jan. 8, 1965. Speaking of Councilman ALFRED E. SOREN-SON, Candidate for RE-ELEC-TION.

"FOR STRIVING TO COPE REALISTICALLY WITH THE THORNY ISSUES CONFRONTING THE PRINCETON AREA; for giving to Princeton the devotion and concern which he feels are the due of the 'center of our love'; for speaking to his 'own' convictions even in the face of peaking opposition; he is our nominee as PRINCE-TON'S MAN OF THE WEEK." TOWN TOPICS, MAY 29, 1965. Speaking of MAYOR HENRY S. PATTERSON, Candidate for RE-ELECTION.

"Both the Borough and Township have been singularly fortunate in having AS DEDICATED A MAN AS CAPTAIN GEOFFREY SAGE AS DIRECTOR OF CIVIL DEFENSE. At some point in the . . . future the present Director will tender his resignation, and it will be difficult enough to replace him with an individual who will approach the job with the dedication possessed by Captain Sage." THE DILLEY REPORT, on p. 93, 1965. Speaking of Capt. GEOFFREY SAGE, Candidate for TAX COL-LECTOR.

"For his dedication to a Commu-nity in which he believes as in-tensely; FOR STRESSING THAT IN LOCAL GOVERNMENT THE POINT OF VIEW OF THE IN-DIVIDUAL IS VASTLY MORE SIGNIFICANT THAN ANY 'PARTY PHILOSOPHY'; For speaking out and with an open mind — on matters of public moment; he is TOWN TOPICS' "Nominee as PRINCETON'S MAN OF THE WEEK." July 15, 1965. Speaking of Councilman WILLIAM H. WALKER, Candidate for RE-ELECTION.

Why Plan to Vote REPUBLICAN DEMOCRATIC

By Charles St. John

By Edmund S. DeLong

I plan to vote Republican on November 2, because I am convinced the Republican candidates—Mayor Patterson and Councilmen Simon and Walker—are the best prepared to govern our town for the next two years.

Few of us need to be reminded that the issues and interests at stake in this election are varied indeed. We elect officials to resolve these conflicting situations, and civic interest demands that we choose the best qualified candidates—regardless of party label.

At the very minimum, a candidate should have a thorough grasp of the workings of the town government, time to contribute to the job, and the foresight to prepare for future municipal needs.

A look at the record of the incumbent Republican candidates will prove that they have the needed qualifications. It is a record of progressive action on many important matters. Consider these few examples:

The recent construction of two new downtown parking lots will help to keep the vital business district healthy. The Joint Recreation Committee has already begun to develop Community Park. This summer, Princeton residents will be able to enjoy one of the finest swimming pool installations in the East, as well as first rank tennis courts and other fine facilities.

Turning from school nerds to the forthcoming municipal election, TOWN TOPICS this week offers the first of three articles in its "Why I Plan to Vote" series. Borough candidates are featured in this issue, with the Township side evaluated next week and a return to the Borough scheduled for October 28 in the final pre-election issue.

Writing for the Republicans this week is Charles E. St. John of 383 Prospect Avenue, an engineer associated with the Lehigh Valley Electric Company. Bespeaking the Democratic cause is Edmund S. DeLong of 190 Ashland Avenue, a teacher and member of the Princeton Chapter of Public Information for Princeton University and his retirement last June.

Similarly, the joint Public Library is now under construction to fulfill a long felt need. The creation and support of the Shade Tree Commission, in cooperation with the Township, and the acquisition of open space under the Green Acres Program are steps to preserve the best of the past for the future. And the acquisition of the Miss Fine School property for municipal purposes without cost to the taxpayer is a perfect example of the way in which these Republican candidates are working for the improvement of our town and the elimination of unnecessary expenditures.

These accomplishments are a substantial part of the bargain we all have in Princeton, a bargain in the sense that they have cost the town money, but we have gained so many benefits with such a low and stable tax rate.

There is certainly a lot of greater gains at a more rapid rate in the future made imperative that we elect candidates who will properly take on the future. The Republican candidates have such a record of proved accomplishment, which is a reflection of future progress can be based.

Joining these incumbents on the Republican ticket is Captain Joseph A. Coffey, senior partner in the law firm of Coffey, Brown, and Taylor, Tax Collector, Captain Joseph A. Coffey's outstanding record as director of civil defense is proof enough of his extraordinary abilities in Princeton and his willingness to serve it.

The major problem facing Princeton Borough is the oldest—traffic congestion. It need not bother the point. What is being done?

Several times our Democratic Assemblymen have passed on-bus legislation. The Princeton-Lightfoot By-Pass Route 206A only to have a Republican in the Senate smash the bill in his desk drawer. If the Republican administration is unable or unwilling to press or to persuade him to release it, the fact is plain. Meanwhile traffic gets steadily worse. The Republican appears to be one of taking high priced ratables in the center of town, money issues, parking lot, which certainly do not enhance the landscape.

Even the realignment of Jackson Street to help the situation with an "inner loop" bypass for traffic is being neglected. Long ago the houses were demolished and the tenants departed—inhabitation, for the most part, to other localities. And still no sign of action in regards to local traffic which does not need or want to use Nassau Street.

In 1939 a professional planner presented his proposed revision of the Master Plan. It left a whopping lot to be desired. But in the six odd years that have elapsed there has been no public hearing called on that proposal, nor has there on that proposal, nor has the public been invited to express its views on master planning for the Borough. Why not?

Planning may still be going on behind closed doors, but all the residents of the Borough see coming out of it is spot zoning. Citizens have definite rights to exercise their voice for what sort of community we will have in the future, and for that matter, right to have it get moving in this direction.

There are other problems and issues which call for action. The Republicans have presented no plan for the possible construction of housing for persons of middle income. While we are not strictly compelled to provide such housing, it is most regrettable that we consider steps in this direction and move the ball forward. Not only does the Borough need such housing, but in a minor way this would help relieve traffic congestion at peak hours. When residents can walk a couple of blocks to work or to shop they will leave their cars garaged rather than in tight traffic and search for an empty parking spot.

In housing and in recreation I would contend that the Democrats have been, and still are, more responsible and more forward looking. Anyone who followed the years-long hassle about a public swimming pool knows that it will come to fruition next spring, at last, largely because of the insistence of Democratic spokesmen for a long time past.

There is no doubt that we needed an enlarged Borough Hall, one longer than regular town. Mattress Boppers $17.90

"DISAPPOINTED" AND "SURPRISED" are the words Township residents Leroy Bolden (left) and Howard Graham use to describe their initial reaction to the outcome last week of the proposed school merger, which was rejected by the Borough voters. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: What is your reaction to the vote on school merger?

Where asked: Princeton Shopping Center.

Leroy Bolden, 94 Birch Avenue, junior, Princeton University: "I was disappointed. I would have liked to have seen them merge. I think a lot were looking forward to it. I felt we were getting a much better school system. One way I looked at it was I thought our taxes would be equalized. I know the Borough voted against it because many thought their taxes would go up but I didn't see it this way."

Howard Graham, 111 Birch Avenue, junior, Trinity Episcopal Church: "Surprised. I thought merger would have been best for the community. The children in the Borough enjoy a high standard of education, true, but I don't think that would have suffered through merger. In fact I think it would have gone up. I still feel some were confused right up to the end between regionalization and consolidation."

Mrs. Dean W. Meyerson, Van Dyke Road, housewife: "I'm sick. I think that in a community like this there are only a certain number of people interested in school education and it is very important to have them working together. Essentially, the Borough and the Township are more similar than they are dissimilar and it makes more sense that they should try to work things out together. I think the Township is going to have to do something drastic if its present position is hopeless. If there was so much had feeling here in Princeton — and this was nasty — how can we ever expect them to work things out in New York City and Selma — places which have much more reason to be divisive. I have lived here 10 years, five in the Borough and five in the Township and they both look identical to me."

William Taylor, Lower Alexander Street, painter: "I feel good about it. I don't see where the Borough had anything to gain by it."

Mrs. Thomas McGrath, 40 Dempsey Avenue, housewife: "I think it was too bad, and I sincerely hope that the Township will begin immediately to make plans to build its own high school."

Mrs. Robert Stengel, 47 Spring Street, student: "I'm very disappointed. What can you say? I just hope since the vote went against merger, it won't prolong it before they put it to a vote again because I especially believe this is the best thing that can happen to the Borough. Those who suffer from it are the children, particularly the children in special classes. Unless the system is enlarged, they won't be able to go on with these classes."

Mrs. William V. Heusel, 8 Flower Lane, housewife: "Very disappointed. We had hoped it would go through, especially since we have a child who will be in school next year. I thought that this certainly would be an advantage for the Borough, too, but apparently a lot of people didn't feel that way."

George P. Holmes, 165 Witherspoon Street, steward for the Colonial Club, Well, "I was surprised at the outcome but I do think it was best. I think the Borough has a good system and I can't see any reason to change it right now. Taxes in the Township are so much higher than in the Borough. It's a known fact the Township taxes won't drop which means the Borough's taxes would have to come up equal to the Township's. To Frank, I just voted my own conscience. I've been a Borough residence since 1913 and I've seen a lot of change."

Mrs. Maxine Lampert, 84 Mason Drive, housewife: "I'm horrified. I believed a merged system would ultimately benefit everyone. This is one community and I regret being thought of in terms of a 'fringe' person. I know who is trying to take over."

Mrs. Lee H. Dierdorf, 433 Walnut Lane, housewife: "I'm disappointed. I think everyone would have benefited, both the Borough and the Township."

Mrs. Gerald Brown, 1 College Road, housewife: "I'm unhappy it didn't pass. I think makes things extremely difficult to have two systems. What are the benefits in keeping them apart?"

Mrs. Robert Clarkson, 69 Patton Avenue, housewife: "I was sorry about it. We are new here and just came into the situation but I was hoping it would pass. I think it would be better, especially for the children."

Mrs. Shirley Mazer, 621 Lakewood Drive, housewife: "Mixed. I guess. I can see both sides of the question. I do agree the Borough was here originally and the Township is a lot newer — I can see a lack of balance, in a way — but it seems to me that consolidation is inevitable, if not now. Later there is so much duplication in everything."

Mrs. F. Robert Michael, 63 Hemlock Circle, housewife: "Well, it was quite a surprise. I was disappointed, I might add."

Mrs. William Pettit, Ridgeview Road, housewife: "I was very pleased about it. I'm surprised that more in the Township didn't vote against it. What I didn't like about it was the tax structure. Even under merger, I believe the Township would have been paying more than the Borough. I think the Township schools are marvelous and I would kind of hate to see them controlled by the Borough."

TO KEEP LAWRENCEVILLE
In Red Cross Chapter, The Lawrenceville branch of the Princeton Red Cross will remain with Princeton, after all.
The Board of Directors of the Princeton Red Cross has reached the decision after the Lawrenceville branch had protested against a new division line at Cold Soil Road which would have taken the Lawrenceville Red Cross branch out of the Princeton United Fund area and placed it in the Delaware Valley United Fund area.

Jerald S. Hanks, Red Cross Chapter chairman, said the board agreed to make no changes in boundary lines after learning of Lawrenceville's desire to remain part of the Princeton Red Cross.

The Lawrenceville branch will continue as part of the Princeton Red Cross Chapter area and its operations will not be affected by the United Fund's Cold Soil division line.

Mr. Hanks said the Princeton Red Cross board also announced the appointment of Roy J. Brown, 52 Dorcas Avenue, as chairman of the First Aid Committee and Robert F. Mooney, Borough administrator, as chairman of the Disaster Committee.

COMMITTEE NAMED
For Mercer County College, Dr. Harold W. Dods, chairman of the Citizens for Mercer County Community College, has appointed his committee to direct the referendum campaign. On November 2, Mercer residents will be asked whether they wish the Freeholders to establish the college to be built with federal state and county funds.

Organizations wishing speakers on the subject are asked to call Miss Frances Otis at 921-9000. The proposed two-year college would serve about 1,500 full-time and 3,000 part-time students with courses in liberal arts and technical and vocational training.
The executive committee members are: Garrel M. Hester, Trenton attorney, assistant chairman; Francis Krieger, chairman of the board, Ewing Bank and Trust Company, treasurer; LeBaron A. Foster, vice president, Opinion Research Corporation, chairman, speakers' bureau; Miss Barbara Polkay, Trenton civic leader, and Miss Otis, professional associate, Educational Testing Service, assistant chairmen, speakers' bureau and Edward F. Meera 3d, Trenton, public relations director.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED
By Hegerwell Legion, Hopewell Valley American Legion Post 339 and Auxiliary will hold an open house for all Hopewell Valley residents on Sunday, November 7.

Residents will be able to see the Post's new home from 1-5 on Van Dyke Road in Hopewell. Official dedication ceremonies will take place next April.

TO AID PLANNERS
Architects Form Group: A Civil Liaison Committee to help planning and zoning boards with long-range planning has been formed by Capital Chapter, New Jersey Society of Architects. John B. Diehl of Princeton is president of the chapter.

A representative of the chapter will attend zoning and planning meetings and keep the chapter informed of master plans, zoning ordinance changes and sub-divisions. The committee will also establish liaison with county, regional and state planning groups.

The area covered by Capital chapter includes portions of Mercer, Burlington and Hunterdon counties, and 11 communities in this area are included so far in the plans of the new committee. Mr. Diehl said that the entire "Capital" area will be covered eventually.

NEW VOTERS REGISTER
In Montgomery, The League of Women Voters in Montgomery has announced the registration of 37 new voters during its September registration drive. The League hopes to make the registration campaign a regular part of its service to voters.

The League is also planning forthcoming events, including a Candidates' Night on October 28 for local office seekers. This will be held at the Montgomery Township School.

Also on the League's schedule is the printing of a candidates' sheet which will give pertinent information about all candidates in the area. This will be mailed to every registered voter in the Township.

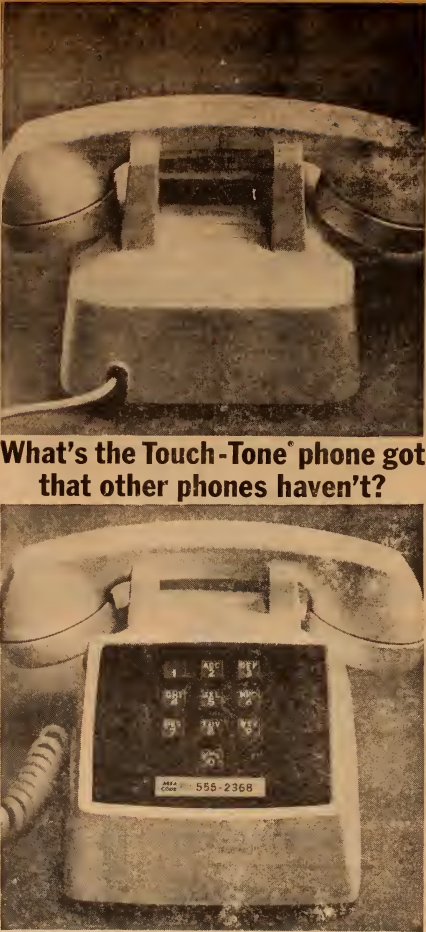

ADULT DIRECTOR NAMED
ALYWCA of Princeton, Mrs. Albert P. Lee, a resident of Princeton since August, has been named Adult Director and Program Correlator of the AYWCA of Princeton by Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., Executive Director.

Mrs. Lee, a native Philadelphian, is a graduate of Syracuse University. She received her master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Her previous experience includes eight years of active duty with the U.S. Navy Reserve during World War II and the last four years in fields of recruiting, publicity, and personnel. She also served as Copy Chief for the U.S. Navy Recruiting Publicity Department in Washington, D.C.

As a civilian she has worked as a teacher and teaching supervisor in the Public School for Exception Children in Devon, Pa. Her husband is a retired naval officer and is currently studying at Princeton Seminary.

HUMAN TOWER FALLS SHORT: Observing that 6-foot, 5-inch tackles on other teams weren't tall enough to block Charlie Gogolak's field goals, Cornell hoisted a couple of 6-foot backs on the shoulders of its 6-foot, 5-inch tackles. Here, Jim Docherty (32) has started his leap forward from the shoulders of Reeve Vanheman (77), but the ball (arrow) will sail far over his outstretched hands and well over the crossbar — 41 yards away. Dale Witsall (49) and Harry Gorman (74) were out of range on this shot, but were dangled for an Oscar anyway. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Bob Mathews)

SPORTS In Princeton

TIGERS EYE NO. 13
Anyone Superstitious? Increasingly in the national spotlight as it continues to attract attention through a variety of eye-catching achievements, Princeton's undefeated football team returns to Palmer Stadium Saturday after a fortnight's absence. The Tigers will be seeking their 12th consecutive victory, and while the danger of superstition is no doubt minimal, there is always the problem of coping with a let-down after having reached a peak the previous weekend.

A year ago, after whumping Dartmouth, 37 to 7 at Hanover, Princeton ran into considerable difficulty against Colgate. The Tigers won by a slim 9-0 count only because Stas Maliszewski picked a fumble out of the air, scoring from six yards out, and Charlie Gogolak booted a field goal. The Red Raiders outgained the life-bound Princetonians and did not allow them a first down in the entire second half.

The upcoming contest will point the national spotlight on Dick Coleman's operatives for several reasons. In addition to owning the second longest winning streak in the country (Arkansas owns 15 straight), ● The Tigers will entertain Colgate in one of the few games anywhere Saturday between two major unbeaten teams.

● Colgate is the only major team in the U.S. which has not had its foot line crossed. The Raiders walloped Lafayette 40-0, played a scoreless tie with Cornell, blanked Yale 7-0, and topped Holy Cross, 7 to 3. ● Cornell's antics in pyramiding its defenders in an effort to block Gogolak's field goals were pictured across the land. His subsequent success in raising his total this season

Colgate Grinds 'Em Down. There were only a handful of teams which allowed less points last fall than did Princeton but Colgate was one of them—yielding 52 to the Tigers' 63. After giving up 21 to Archie Roberts and Columbia in their opener, the Raiders allowed an average of only four points to their last eight opponents, half of whom failed to score a touchdown against them.

QUICK LOOK AT COLGATE
OFFENSE: Has not been impressive, lacking both good passer and breakaway back.
DEFENSE: Stuffed with team's best players, but, rugged and experienced, but not allowed a 70 in four games.
CHIEF ASSET: See above.

CHIEF PROBLEM: By-product of extreme attention given defense. Colgate has scored only 14 points in last three games.
TYPE OF ATTACK: T with flankery.
Ten of the players who started on the defensive platoon in 1964 are back, led by the two standout linebackers—Captain John Paske and Ray Hilt—and 227-lb tackle Jim Schneider. Coach Hal Lahar stresses defense above all else and the Tigers will need to approach their caliber of execution against one of in order to penetrate the visitors' end zone.

In contrast to the extreme holdover strength on defense, the attacking unit at Colgate was clearly in a state of readiness. Quarterbacks Buff Platt and Bob Mark have only averaged passing while the top running backs are fullback Tom Carpenter and 205-lb sophomore Mary Hubbard. More often than not, Colgate played an extremely tough fourth-game opponent for the Tigers. It won two and tied a third and lost four over a span in the mid-fifties and picked up another pair in 1961 and '62. Like every other opponent on the Princeton schedule, it will go all out for this one—as any team would with a chance to break one of the nation's longest winning streaks.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?
Offense Jells, Defense Slips

To the amazement of everyone, including the coaching staff, Princeton scored four touchdowns, two field goals and a safety against a Cornell team that had been figured one of the top defensive powers in the Ivy League. Simultaneously, the Tigers' own defense lost one of its lastre as the Ithaca ran and passed for 373 yards, 100 more than any opponent had been able to gain against the Orange and Black last year.

The 27 points yielded were more than half the entire total scored against Princeton in 1961 and represented the first time any team had scored more than three touchdowns against it since October 27, 1902. The opponent? Cornell in its 35-34 victory at Ithaca.

It was largely the pass defense that bogged down—Ithaca Stadium last November, the same Marty Spontangle who hit for 203 yards on Saturday was held to four completions and an infinitesimal 16 yards in the air. Three of the Ithaca's four TD's came on passes, and while the second was on a broken play that many Princetonians insist was gained from beyond the line of scrimmage and the last came with 22 seconds left after the outcome had been firmly settled, the fact remains that

The Smothers Brothers' Three Big Hits

Princeton's defense may have been quite thoroughly disappointed with its statistical showing against Cornell—373 yards and 27 points allowed—but the Tigers who presumably never see their hands on the ball were up to their old tricks in executing plays that hung points on the scoreboard.

Led by the Smothers Brothers—Stas Maliszewski and Captain Paul Savidge—the defensive platoon contributed three specific plays which were immediately followed by 16 points in the Tigers' favor.

●Early in the first period, Savidge broke through to block a Cornell punt on the Ithaca's four, the ball rolling through the end zone for an automatic safety.
●Late in the third period, Maliszewski intercepted a pass on the Cornell 14. Ron Landeck hit Bob Dehler with an accurate throw for the remaining distance and Charlie Gogolak promptly converted.

●Cornell was still within reach of victory in the final quarter when it began a drive deep in its own territory. Maliszewski's jarring tackle snatched the ball out of Pete Larson's hands and cornerback Hayward Gibson recovered on the Ithaca's four.

On the next play, Landeck passed to Lawton Cashdollar in the end zone. Gogolak's conversion came as the 16th point directly traceable to a defensive play, and as any advanced mathematician can tell you, 16 is considerably more than the 9 which represented Princeton's final margin of victory.

Good passer may raise a great deal of hub with the Tigers' present defensive capabilities.

There was reason to be figuratively satisfied with the defensive performance against an expectedly strong Cornell team. It was halted in effective fashion repeatedly during the afternoon, and actually accounted for the bulk of the 170 yards yielded to it on the last touchdown drive when a number of Tiger reserves were in action.

Tiger Attack Sparkles. It will be an astonishing development if Princeton generates a streak of four straight wins in the 1965 season than it did a year ago, when All-American Cammo Lacavazzi was breaking most of the Tigers' scoring records. The fact remains, however, that against Rutgers, Columbia and Cornell teams which are about on a par with the outfit that represented those opponents a year ago, Princeton has virtually doubled its output—90 points this season to 50 in 1964.

The difference has to be the combination of improved blocking and Ron Landeck's all-around play at tailback. He is giving the Princeton offense tremendous balance—his personal statistics against Cornell were 130 yards rushing and 108 passing—and the combined threat is driving opposing defenses silly.

Landeck had to make a great comeback in his passing Saturday in order to insure the 36-27 triumph. Although the Tigers took a 12-7 lead into the dressing room at halftime, he had completed only 3 for 13 and Cornell was becoming so confident that it frequently moved into a seven-man line with two linebackers up tight.

In the second half, the Tiger tailback raised his average from 3 for 15 to 7 for 12 and three touchdowns. He has already passed for four TD's this season. In contrast to five for which Princeton accounted in the air during all of 1964.

If the defense had its problems, it was thanks to certain stand-out performances on its part that the Tigers never trailed Saturday. Paul Savidge's punt block and resultant safety in the opening moments were followed by two occasions when Princeton took the ball away from the home team—the first followed by Landeck's 14-yard jump around end for a touchdown, and the second by Gogolak's latest Princeton and Ivy record 34-yard field goal.

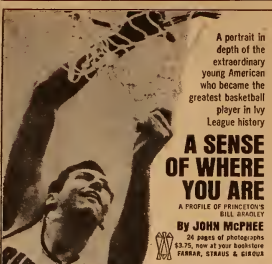

Then, with Cornell trailing only 12-7 and driving hard, the second half kickoff sophomore punter Lee McInerney and veteran end Walt Kozumbo led three successive charges on Spontangle which loved him for a cumulative loss of 24 yards. An 83-yard Princeton drive followed, with Landeck tossing to Bob Dehler for the TD, and when Maliszewski's interception and another scoring pass to reserve end Bill Potter followed just seconds later, the score of 36-7 on the board showed that Princeton would win comfortably—if not quite as conclusively as briefly seemed indicated.

try to make sure they can not guarantee at least a share of the title.

For the Tigers, the big job is to guard against a letdown, with both Colgate and Penn apparently strong enough to upset them if they are measurably short of their best. Odds are, however, that for the second successive year they will go into November unbeaten, and that in itself is an achievement only three or four teams in the country attain.

PHS AT TRENTON NEXT

After routing Ewing, 32-0, a Princeton High School eleven which grew progressively more expert in all phases of the game is humbling Ewing Saturday, 32-0, should have the confidence and momentum to administer a similar shelling to Trenton High this Saturday morning. Unfortunately, there are no lead-time certainties in football, particularly high school football where performance varies widely from week to week with expanding unexpectedness. Who, for example, could force the Little Tigers rolling up their biggest score in several years and knocking off Ewing by 35 points?

The Trenton contest should go Princeton's way. In the three games each has played, two have been with common opponents after a long dry spell. PHS (1-2) finally won its first two weeks ago, up-ending Ewing, 18-6. Last week it fell before powerful Thomas Jefferson, 27-7. Its one TD marking the first time the Minutemen have been scored on this season.

For their part, the Little Tigers were counted 20-0 by Jefferson and, of course, are fresh from their big win over Ewing. Their record is 2-1. In the past, PHS vs. TJS used to be THE game for the Blue and White. It still is in large measure, which is one reason past records mean little in this one—both schools can't consider their season a total loss, no matter what, if it includes a victory over the other.

Still, with the addition of Notre Dame high school (half again closer to Princeton than Trenton) to the PHS schedule, the natural built-in rivalry with Trenton will inevitably diminish somewhat. Chances are, however, there isn't a team PHS coach Dick Wood would like to defeat more aside from ND. The Trenton Kick-off will be at 11 Saturday at the Trenton High School

VOLZ ALMOST INTERCEPTS: An Ewing pass was tipped by the intended receiver, Chip Cregar, 21, and almost picked off by Richard Volz, 82, in the fourth quarter in Saturday's contest. A thieving and alert PHS secondary intercepted three Ewing passes and allowed only one completion during the Little Tigers' 32-0 romp. (Staff Photo) field adjacent to the school.

THIS IS THE WAY: Against Ewing Saturday, tailback Bill Cirullo turned professor, over and over again he taught the Blue Devils the correct way to throw a football, the way to run and the proper way to lead a team to victory. Bill also showed he could only 5-8 and weighs 138, but he is a good pupil as well. A week ago against Thomas Jefferson, he was tight and failed to connect on two-thirds of his passes. Coach Wood recounted that when they reviewed pictures of the game, Bill was able to see what he was doing wrong. He corrected his mistakes in updates. Against Ewing, a much looser Cirullo was 7 for 7 before he missed and even his two misses were right on target.

Cirullo received superb assistance from his teammates. Fullback Lou Balestrieri banged over for two tallies, getting the game's first six-pointer in three straight carries from the seven.

Vince Boccanfuso showed Ewing again why he must rank one of the area's top pass receiving ends. He snared a 17-yarder from Cirullo between two Ewing defenders under the goal posts for Princeton's second score. Another side line pass which he grabbed right in front of the PHS bench Wood labeled "a fantastic effort."

To these one can add the running of Craig Beachell up the middle, the defensive play of Rich Volz, Joe Harding and Balestrieri, who were singled out by Wood for their line-backing the alertness of end Mark Dannenhauer who fell on an Ewing fumble for an easy TD after Ewing quarterback Jeff Wyckoff had had the ball jarred loose by a tackle by Mike Pomianowski and the all-around play of Jeff Bullock.

A junior, Bullock stands only 5-8 and weighs 138, but the thieving he commits as a member of the PHS secondary would make a Willie Sutton blanch. Bullock raised to four the number of passes he had intercepted this year when he picked off two Wyckoff aerials.

His second steal occurred in the closing minute of the game and he returned it to the Ewing nine. After Carmelo Mauro had moved him ball to the four, Bullock carried it over standing up a play later. The three extra points kicked by PHS were the work of Craig Wood, one of the two sons of Coach Wood playing on the present squad.

their standard tackle and co-captain, Tony Arcaro.

During Princeton's third score early in the final period, Arcaro, who kicks off for the Blue and White, crashed head-on into the ball carrier, Jack Carmine, and suffered a shoulder separation. He was operated on Monday and will be out for the rest of the year.

Arcaro's loss is a great one. At 228 and 5-10, he had the size, weight and strength to be the outstanding tackler in the game. In addition, his driving power was called on occasionally for Wood, who used Tony as a fullback. His kick-offs were long, deep and twisting—hard to handle.

As a member of the PHS varsity for three years, Arcaro gave it all he had for every game. Wood called his department a "rough break for the team. We have some boys we can put in there," he added, "but no one nearly as good as Tony."

The team's other co-captain, Rich Stewart, was forced to sit out the entire second half when he received a severe injury to his shin bone, but when reports he should be ready to go again, Princeton.

Tyson, Too. Arcaro's loss marks the second full-time veteran loss to the team for the year. Al Tyson, who sustained a knee injury in the game to give up the game, often, was ordered by his coach to sit out. To fill Arcaro's shoes, Wood said he plans to turn to Brandon Stechini, a 188 pound junior, "who has a lot of natural ability" and to Don Juberg, a 175-lb. senior. "Just along," said Wood, "has come along very well."

DAY SCHOOLS WIN

In Football and Soccer. The newly-named Princeton Day Schools made their first venture into the realm of athletics a successful one, last week when they triumphed in both football and soccer.

On the gridiron, PDS blanked the Jayvets of St. Bernard's School in Gladstone 13 to 0. Bob Reynolds scored once on a four-yard run, added the extra point and later kicked a 20-yard pass to John Claghorn for the second TD.

John Vereen scored the only goal as the soccer team edged Puddie 1-0. Vereen also paced the defense as the victors made the shutout stand up.

HUN SKINN ENDS

As Princeton Ends. 26-6. "What it all boils down to is that we made more mistakes than they did," said Hun football coach James S. 26-6 defeat by Perkinson, his contest was held on the victim's field.

Coming up Saturday at 2:30 on Hun's gridiron is an important Penn-Jersey League contest with Germantown.

NAMED TO COUNTY TENNIS COMMITTEE: Freeholder Richard J. Caffee (retired), President of the Mercer County Park Commission has announced the appointment of Mrs. Eve Kraft and Judge Edmund Z. Polak as co-chairmen of the Mercer County Citizens' Tennis Advisory Committee. Mrs. Kraft, who has been active in promoting tennis among the youth of Princeton, had been serving as interim chairman since the departure of Bernard Forer whom she will succeed.

Friends, Hun, defending champion, and now 0-1 in league play following the loss to Perkinson needs a victory over the Quakers if it is to stay in the running in the seven-team league.

Germantown, in its most recent botching, tied Pennington School. A week earlier, it had lost by one touchdown its opener with Solebury.

According to Waterman, Germantown's strength lies in a pair of fine running backs. So far, injuries have kept both from playing at the same time but "if they are healthy," commented Waterman, it should be an interesting game Saturday.

Passing Hurts Hun. Against Hun, Perkinson employed what Waterman described as a "very effective short passing attack" in punch out touchdowns in both the first and second periods for a 14-0 halftime lead. Pass interference called again during the game. Hun's home team sustain both drives, Waterman said.

Hun got on the scoreboard at the start of the second half. Using its best ground-gainer, Mike Miller mainly as a decoy, Hun alternated Chip Chipman and Steve Carr on moving the ball to the 18, from where Carr blasted off tackle for the TD. The try for the conversion was wide.

After an exchange of punts, Hun scored on the verge of a possible tie when Miller ran for the TD. The try from his own 30 to Perkinson 20. However, a Nasau Liquor, all with 18. Ernie Hunt took individual honors with a 238 game.

Princeton No. 1 moved out of a tie with Dutch Neck in the Tri-County Firemen's League as it took a two-point lead with 22 Hook & Ladder. "It" stayed in third place with 17 points, but was closely pressed by three teams with 16.

Andrew Cupples' 243 game and 203 series set a fast pace for individual honors. Richard Harris received a 225 game and Ken Lock with a 224 effort.

Key Shop came out on top of last week's play in the B League as it took a four-point lead over Benwick's with a 22 total. Five teams remained in position to challenge the leaders with 18 point each.

Frank Maddaloni's 234 helped him to a 604 series total. Other standout games included Joe Tufano's 221, Nick Rossi's 213 and 204, Joe Baldino's 212 and 206 and Val Ranallo's 211.

In the Business Women's League, Claridge Liquor and Nasau Coveover remained tied for first place as they raised their number of wins to 22. Maal Electric was a distant third with 16 and Jefferson Plumbing and Princeton Gulf sold fourth place with 14 points apiece.

Julia Ball led the ladies with 187 high individual game but Lillian Burrough captured series honors with a 502 three-game total as she rolled 166, 167 and 169 games. Other high scores included Marie Pipeer with games of 169 and 165 and Dail Forsyth with a 164 total.

Our ends were wide open all afternoon, but we just couldn't connect," said Waterman. He added that the fault was not entirely Jim MacLeod's, the team's passer. "Perkinson put on a good pass rush and we didn't always give MacLeod the protection he needed," Waterman concluded.

Despite the loss, Waterman refused to concede anything. "He's," Perkinson was a better passing team, no question about it, but run for me, I think we had the better team."

BOLT AND LAWSON WIN

Victors in Sunday Sailing. Phil Holt with Alexandra Holt as crew, compiled 51.9 points on Sunday to take the Penguin class racing series staged by the Carnegie Sailing Club. Bolt was runner up with 50.4, followed by Dexter Miller with 45.8.

Jerry Lawson won the competition among the 14-foot class, with Paul Mary second and Norman Vanderaart third. Some members of the Club went to Barnegat Bay for a special night with "Ready" wins gracing the activities. Walter Smith as his crew, Art Benson was second and Tom Hilton third.

BOWLING NOTES

Johnson Electric Gains Tie. Johnson Electric, down by two points to Deckers Dairy before play in the Three-Man Classic League last week, pulled even on the strength of three wins. Deckers Dairy and Johnson Electric now have ten points apiece, while Turney Motors is close behind with 9.

In league play, Joe Baldino scored a 193-193-193 triplicate for a 579 series and Ed Hughes rolled a 266 high game. Hughes also took high series honors with a 651 total. Others breaking the 600-barrier were Bill Pencill with a 614 and Ernie Hunt with a 603.

In the Nassau League, the top four teams retained their positions although several ties were broken. Cliff Electric took sole possession of first place with 24 points and Deckers Dairy dropped four points behind with 20.

Grover Lumber held third with 18 while the Experts dropped into a three-way tie for fourth with Italian ASC.

VERY SPECIAL . . . on 2 plus acres in one of Princeton's most desirable residential neighborhoods, this property has everything that should appeal to the most discriminating home-seeker. The owners, who ardently believed in "sparing that tree," built their house far back from the road in order to shade it under one of the most magnificent old white oaks now living in Princeton. And the rest of the property, thoughtfully landscaped to blend in with that splendid tree and the rich carpet of lawn which spreads all around the house, is one of the real showplaces in our village. The house itself, a one-story gem of brick (painted white) and grey shingles, nestles under its guardian oak as if it had been there forever. This is the kind of home it is very easy to love — especially if you are interested in coming back to Princeton to retire (or to begin enjoying life as you have often dreamed of doing!). Here is a place that you can move into at once. The big living room, with its friendly fireplace, opens into a paneled library. Beyond, there is a large dining room and what is, perhaps, the most practical and complete kitchen in Princeton. Off the library, there is a large terrace that is quite the most secluded spot for outdoor entertaining that you could ever find. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, spacious closets. This is, beyond doubt, one of the most charming dwellings in all of Princeton. Custom-built, the rooms are large and every detail of construction shows the thought and care that went into the creation of this fine home. $67,500

GRAND LOCATION . . . this fine Colonial home overlooking the meandering Millstone River is located in one of our most charming out-of-town neighborhoods, which benefits, however, from the fact that the children attend Princeton schools. 4 Bedrooms, 2 baths and powder room. Living room is spacious and airy, there is a good-sized, separate dining room, a den, and a fully-equipped kitchen. The family room has sliding doors leading to a commodious terrace made of old red brick, with a lovely view of woods and fields and the river. Two acres of lawn, and landscaping that has had two years to get a good start, complete one of our nicest homes. $38,000

NFED 6 BEDROOMS? . . . Now available is an unusual home in Edgerstown. It looks like a traditional shingled Colonial, and fits beautifully into the landscape. Indoors, however, an ingenious 4-level floor plan provides living room with fireplace, separate dining room, modern kitchen with an exit to the garage, and 6 bedrooms, 2 baths. Downstairs: a large family room, with powder room close by, and a spacious red brick terrace. (Sole Agent) $59,500

RENTAL . . . in Princeton's beautiful Western Section. This charming residence, secluded behind its high hedge, has living room, dining room, kitchen, large bedroom and bath on first floor. Second floor: 2 more bedrooms and bath. House in perfect condition with a beautiful garden. One or two year lease. $450.00

Many fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.

WEEKLY PROGRESS REPORT

Two weeks ago, we were optimistic enough to add three premature X's . . . NEVER AGAIN! From now on, we'll ink in those blocks only when we see the job completed. Someone once said, "Believe nothing you hear and only half of what you see." Now we know why!

This week we report that the Fitting Room IS complete and work is under way on the floor, ceiling and lighting. ONE X — no credit for partials.
